Ethics Statement

ETHICS GUIDELINES FOR TOWN ADVISORY BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

Members of advisory boards and commissions shall not vote on any matter in which they have a conflict of interest or an interest which reasonably might appear to be in conflict with the concept of fairness in dealing with public business. A conflict of interest or a potential conflict occurs if the outcome of the matter being considered is reasonably likely to have a direct, substantial, and readily identifiable financial impact on the member. In addition, members of the Historic District Commission and Board of Adjustment, when these boards are hearing cases, serve as quasi-judicial bodies. Pursuant to General Statute 160D-109(d), members of these boards “shall not participate in or vote on any quasi-judicial matter in a manner that would violate affected persons’ constitutional rights to an impartial decision maker. Impermissible violations of due process include, but are not limited to, a member having a fixed opinion prior to hearing the matter that is not susceptible to change, undisclosed ex parte communications, a close familial, business, or other associational relationship with an affected person, or a financial interest in the outcome of the matter.”

Any member who violates these Ethics Guidelines may be subject to removal from the board or commission. If the advisory board or commission member believes he/she has a conflict of interest then that member shall recuse himself/herself from voting on the matter. In cases where the individual member or the advisory board or commission establishes a conflict of interest, then the advisory board or commission member shall remove themselves from the voting area. Any advisory board or commission member may seek the counsel of the Town Attorney on questions regarding the interpretation of these ethics guidelines or other conflict of interest matters. The interpretation may include a recommendation on whether or not the advisory board or commission member should excuse himself/herself from voting. The advisory board or commission member may request the Town Attorney respond in writing.

Bio

Scott Badesch is the President of Badesch and Associates LLC, with offices in Silver Spring, Maryland, Chapel Hill, North Carolina and Chicago, Illinois. As President, Scott oversees a global consulting business assisting not for profit as well as profit making companies advance their work in helping enhance the quality of life of individuals impacted by autism.

Prior to serving as President of his consulting company, Scott served for ten years as President/CEO of the Autism Society of America, the nation's oldest and largest grassroots autism organization. As President/CEO, Scott directed a national network of over 70 local and state affiliates that collectively served and supported close to 625,000 people a year. During his tenure, Scott worked with an active and involved board of directors, transforming the organization and its national system of caring affiliates to what today is one of the most respected autism organizational systems in the nation and a national organization that is highly responsive, accountable, inclusive, transparent and effective.

Upon his retirement from the Autism Society of America in January 2020, Scott was recognized for not only successfully positioning the Autism Society of America as the nation's most effective autism grassroots organization, but also for how he transitioned the organization from having a large deficit in 2010 to his leaving the organization with a sizable and healthy fund balance. Scott has testified before Congress and before the Illinois, Texas, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Florida legislatures. Scott also has a very strong working understanding of establishing as well as evaluating human services programs and how best to fund and operate such programs. He also regularly advises people of wealth as well as corporations on the best ways to address the needs of individuals and families in need. Scott was also recognized by two members of Congress in 2020 for his leadership in helping with the passage of the Autism Care Act and was provided a framed copy of the actual bill which was signed by President Trump. Scott also was invited to the Oval Office in 2014 to discuss with President Obama the needs of the autism community and was present when President Obama signed an earlier version of the Autism Cares Act..

Scott came to the Autism Society of America after serving as CEO of the Autism Society of North Carolina. Prior to serving with the Autism Society, Scott had a 24 year career with United Way, having served as President/CEO of the United Way of South Carolina as well as the United Way of Palm Beach County and having served as the Director of Services for the United Way of Suburban Chicago. Prior to his work with United Way, Scott served as the President/CEO of the Northwest Services Coordination, an organization in the northwest suburbs of Chicago and before that he was the Director of Programs for the Area Agency of Suburban Cook County. During Scott's career, he has helped raise close to $600,000,000 US dollars

Scott is an internationally recognized leader in visioning, strategic planning, organizational development, fundraising and funding, transformation of organizations, program development, government advocacy, outcome measurements and partnership development. As President/CEO of the Autism Society of America, Scott led a major transformation of the organization to its current standing as a very strong, focused and effective measurable outcome based organization helping individuals with autism each day to maximize their quality of life. Scott also is regularly asked to speak at national and international conferences and meetings on transformation of organizations, strategic planning, program development, funding options for program development, fundraising and outcome measurements. Scott also volunteered with United Way International helping set up United Ways in Israel, China and supported an effort for a United Way in Jordan. Scott has also helped advance support to people with autism who reside in Qatar and Saudi Arabia.

Scott's consulting work with Badesch and Associates LLC includes, but is not limited to helping NGOs and corporations transform into ongoing relevant and supportive entities, assisting NGOs with development and implementation of capital fundraising and general fund raising campaigns and program development. Scott also assists start ups in their efforts to advance employment opportunities for adults with autism as well as advancing the use of technology for training individuals impacted by autism and helping startups best position their products and services within the autism community. Scott also is working with investors and philanthropists to examine investment opportunities benefiting the autism community as well as helping private companies and startups develop and place needed products within the autism community. Scott is well respected as having a full understanding of post secondary options for autistic students, financing of post secondary educational options and has a complete understanding on how to successfully navigate state and federal government programs for individuals with a disability. Scott's work with Badesch and Associates LLC also includes public advocacy on behalf of the firm's clients and helping NGO organizations conduct a search for a new CEO.

Scott has been the recipient of numerous local, state and national awards and recognition. He holds a Masters Degree from the University of Chicago School of Social Services Administration and has a Bachelor's Degree from the University of Illinois. He is the past chairman of the CPSD (Collaboration for Self Determination), Caring Foundation and currently serves as the chair of the Autism Science Foundation, Scot has been married for 38 years to Phyllis Badesch (Upshaw) and has four amazing adult children, a wonderful son in law, and two very beautiful and much loved grandsons. Scott is a lifelong volunteer and currently volunteers with a local arts based program for at-risk kids, helping a Chicago based child protection agency with their government affairs efforts and volunteers with a feeding program for the homeless within

Washington, DC. Scott also volunteered in 1975 at a Vietnamese Resettlement Camp helping refugees relocate within the USA. He also has extensive disaster relief leadership work in responding to hurricanes.

Scott and his wife reside in Chapel Hill, North Carolina. .

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

I am a former juvenile Probation Officer and i am on disability. Therefore, I can no longer do what I am passionate about. But, I still want to be apart of the community and give back. I've been looking for alternative ways to use both my MBA and my Bachelor's in Social work and this feels like the perfect fit for me. I'm currently a Dss social worker at a non profit for foster care juveniles. I am mostly passionate in terms of community policing, when it comes to our youth and how this can be utilized in the school systems , with DJJDP and police departments collectively, instead of separate entities. Also, to reduce and eliminate stereotypes in racial and social economical norms, as it's often portrayed in the media. So these are some of the reasons why I'm interested in working with CPAC to reform or transform some beliefs with policing and within the African American community.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

Orange County DSS -foster care Case Manager Diversion Specialist with Volunteers of America Chesapeake and Carolinas, for Durham's Entry point - Homelessness Diversion Program. Entry point is entering and diverting Durhams entire homeless population (even in the pandemic) and we consist of 6 committed powerful women. It's so amazing and a reality checker daily.

How do you describe your previous advisory board experience?

Non-Chapel Hill Board Experience

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

I bring the perspective of connector to the board. I am from currently involved with the Marion Cheek Jackson Center and have worked with the Stone Center in the past year, and have the ability to listen and connect with the people of Chapel Hill who have lived here longer than I. My perspective is one of community, working together for mutual improvement, I live in a bubble but thats a choice, talking to people allows me to build community.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

I have some novice soft skills when it comes to organizing and planning. I have a strong passion for learning about marginalized communities and working with them by sharing our experiences to build community. I have some research experience in terms of genealogy and ancestry. I have some writing experience, with a few publications.

Question applies to Historic District Commission

Do you have special interest, experience, or education/training in history, architecture, archaeology, or related fields? If yes, please explain.

I have a minor in African and African American studies from Ohio State University. I have some novice level historical research skills, that I may have the chance to cultivate further this summer working along Beverly Gray at the David Nickens Heritage Center in Chillicothe, Ohio this summer.

Interests & Experiences

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

I bring the perspective of a black mother and wife. I am also a physician and entrepreneur. I run a non-profit and for-profit company.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

I have a diverse educational background that has given insight into a lot of different areas including medicine, tech, engineering, science, and women's health. I run a non-profit working to promote more health equity innovations using engineering principles.

Ethics Statement

ETHICS GUIDELINES FOR TOWN ADVISORY BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

Members of advisory boards and commissions shall not vote on any matter in which they have a conflict of interest or an interest which reasonably might appear to be in conflict with the concept of fairness in dealing with public business. A conflict of interest or a potential conflict occurs if the outcome of the matter being considered is reasonably likely to have a direct, substantial, and readily identifiable financial impact on the member. In addition, members of the Historic District Commission and Board of Adjustment, when these boards are hearing cases, serve as quasi-judicial bodies. Pursuant to General Statute 160D-109(d), members of these boards “shall not participate in or vote on any quasi-judicial matter in a manner that would violate affected persons’ constitutional rights to an impartial decision maker. Impermissible violations of due process include, but are not limited to, a member having a fixed opinion prior to hearing the matter that is not susceptible to change, undisclosed ex parte communications, a close familial, business, or other associational relationship with an affected person, or a financial interest in the outcome of the matter.”

Any member who violates these Ethics Guidelines may be subject to removal from the board or commission. If the advisory board or commission member believes he/she has a conflict of interest then that member shall recuse himself/herself from voting on the matter. In cases where the individual member or the advisory board or commission establishes a conflict of interest, then the advisory board or commission member shall remove themselves from the voting area. Any advisory board or commission member may seek the counsel of the Town Attorney on questions regarding the interpretation of these ethics guidelines or other conflict of interest matters. The interpretation may include a recommendation on whether or not the advisory board or commission member should excuse himself/herself from voting. The advisory board or commission member may request the Town Attorney respond in writing.

I Agree *

Applications will be kept on file from July 1st to June 30th of the same fiscal year. Please reapply each fiscal year if you are still interested in serving on an Advisory Board, Commission, Committee or Task Force and have not yet been appointed.

Yamicia Connor

OB-GYN Physician Scientist

Yamicia Connor, MD, PhD, MPH is an OB-GYN physician-scientist with a diverse training background in medicine, science, engineering, entrepreneurship, and public health. Dr. Connor is passionate about using innovation to improve women's lives and reduce health inequities. In addition to clinical practice, Dr. Connor works as a Women's Health Consultant for GV (formally Google Ventures) and various other firms. Dr. Connor is also the co-founder of Race to Better Health, a non-profit, patient-centered, interdisciplinary organization dedicated to Engineering Health Equity. By combining clinical work with entrepreneurship, venture capital, and consulting, Dr. Connor can think deeply and creatively about diseases impacting women's health while also thinking deeply and creatively about healthcare delivery mechanisms.

Entrepreneurship

Diosa Ara, LLC , (2022 - Present): Women's Health consulting for the pharmaceutical, venture, and business communities with a focus on high-risk obstetrics, complex gynecology, and gynecological oncology. Diosa Ara Consulting is focused on making women's health conditions accessible to non-physicians as a mechanism to bring greater awareness and scientific insight to the fields many unmet needs.

Race to Better Health (RBH), Founder & CEO (2020 - Present): Non-profit professional organization and think-tank dedicated to eliminating health disparities using science, engineering, advocacy, and community engagement to address root causes of health inequity. Notable achievements include acceptance into Harvard iLab venture program (2020-2021), planning and sponsoring the Engineering Health Equity Hack-a-thon with Atrius Health and MIT Hacking Racism in 2021 with 350+ participants, over 32 states and 45 countries, and developing the Engineering Health Equity Lab which functions as a research lab and start-up incubator supporting minority founders and health equity focused ventures.

gigaSpring , Founding Member (2013-2015): Launched gigaSpring, a desktop virtualization utility.

Tech Tutors, LLC, Founder and Managing Partner (2007 – 2011): Educational service provider specializing in technical fields with 50+ administrative and instructional staff members under management. Tech Tutors developed key partnerships with educational institutions locally and internationally. My responsibilities included business development and operations, curriculum development, and instructing classes.

Research Experience

Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center , Boston, MA

Postdoctoral Research Fellow, Gynecologic Oncology

Aug 2016 – June 2020

Project: Biology of small cell cancer of the ovary, hypercalcemic type

Supervisor: Dr. K. Esselen, MD

Focus: Rare gynecological tumors, SCCOHT, genetics, immunotherapy

Postdoctoral Research Fellow, Medical Education

Jan 2017 – June 2020

Project: Technological Educational Application in Clinical Heutagogy (TEACH)

Supervisor: Dr. M. Mendiola, MD

Focus: Adult learning, medical education, and technology

St. Jude Children's Hospital , Memphis, TN

Postdoctoral Research Fellow, Pediatric Oncology Research

Sep 2013 – Apr 2014

Project: The tumor microenvironment of medulloblastoma

Supervisor: Dr. M. Roussel, Ph.D.

Focus: Pediatric tumors, medulloblastoma, tumor microenvironment

Harvard-MIT Division of Health Sciences and Technology,
Cambridge, MA

Doctoral Research Candidate, Medical Engineering, and Medical Physics

Jun 2008 – Jun 2010 (pre-clinical years); Jun 2010 – Aug 2013
(Ph.D.)

Project: Novel mechanisms of endothelial-epithelial interactions underlying cancer metastasis

Supervisor: Dr. S. Sengupta, Ph.D.

Focus: Cancer metastasis, cell-cell communication, bio-engineering

Merck & Co, Inc: Department of Pharmacology , Boston, MA
Research Biologist

Aug 2007 – Jun 2008

Project: Oncology drug discovery franchise on PDK1 project

Supervisor: Dr. K. Ellwood-Yen, Ph.D.

Focus: Pre-clinical drug discovery, PDK1, animal models (xenograft and GEMMs)

Research Intern

Jun 2006 - Aug 2007

Project: Notch pathway and cancer stem cells

Supervisor: Dr. P. Majumder, Ph.D.

Focus: Cancer stem cells, Notch and Shh pathways, pre-clinical drug discovery

Massachusetts Institute of Technology , Cambridge, MA
Research Assistant, Department of Chemical Engineering

Aug 2006 - Jan 2007

Project: Bimodal amplifying peptides

Supervisor: Professor P. Hammond, Ph.D.

Focus: Drug delivery vehicles, peptide targeting

Research Assistant, Department of Chemical Engineering

Jun 2005 - May 2006

Project: Drug delivery systems and gene therapy

Supervisor: Professor P. Hammond, Ph.D.

Focus: Drug delivery, biomedical engineering, pharmacology

Research Assistant, Department of Chemistry

Jun 2004 - Dec 2004

Project: Role of zinc in neurodegenerative disease

Supervisor: Professor S. Lippard, Ph.D.

Focus: Neurobiochemistry, fluorescent sensors, neurodegenerative diseases

Mayo Clinic , Jacksonville, FL

Research Assistant, Department of Neuroscience

Aug 2002 – Aug 2003

Project: Neurodegenerative tauopathies

Supervisor: Dr. L. Ko, Ph.D.

Focus: Tau protein, Alzheimer's disease

Supervisor: Dr. L. Ko, Ph.D.

Focus: Tau protein, Alzheimer's disease

Work History

2022-11 -
Current

Startup Founder

Diosa Ara Consulting LLC., Chapel Hill, NC

- Working to advance thought leadership in Women's Health by providing clinical and scientific insights
- Established solutions and approaches tailored to meet knowledge needs across several business industries
- Developed innovative sales and marketing strategies to facilitate business expansion

2020-05 -
Current

Startup Founder

Race To Better Health, Chapel Hill, TN

- Pioneered innovate thinking within health equity by using engineering design to create health equity solutions
- Cultivated and managed forward-thinking, accomplished, and inclusive team across diverse professions to drive innovation within health equity

- Developed multiple strategic relationships with academic, public and private institutions
- Leading strategic campaign in Q1-Q2 of 2023 introducing several new services and initiatives

2020-01 -
Current

Women's Health Consultant

GV, Boston, MA

- Core member of GV's Women's Health team since 2020 providing research diligence across therapeutics, devices and diagnostics, and consumer and care delivery companies impacting women
- Performed clinical and scientific diligence critical to several key investments within the Women's Health portfolio including, but not limited to, Antiva Biosciences (Novel topical therapy for HPV), Overture Life (Creators of embryology lab in a box to democratize IVF access), TMRW (Automated platform for care of Frozen Embryos and other critical cells), Contraline (Male Contraceptive), Comanche Biopharma (Developing novel siRNAs therapy for pre-eclampsia) as well as several other nondisclosed investments
- Identified issues, analyzed information and provided solutions to problems

2021-07 -
2022-11

Gynecologic Oncology Fellow

University Of North Carolina At Chapel Hill, Chapel Hill, NC

- Led care teams in driving successful patient outcomes for women diagnosed with diverse gynecological cancers
- Delivered high level of quality care to diverse populations in both inpatient and outpatient settings
- Performed standard and complex surgical procedures within the abdomen and pelvis
- Expertise in all standard gynecological and obstetrical procedures including open surgery, laparoscopy, robotic surgery, hysteroscopy and vaginal/vulvar surgery
- Research resulted in 2 published abstracts

2020-07 -
2021-06

Commonwealth Fellow

Harvard T.H. Chan School Of Public Health, Boston, MA

- Practicum Project: Health Equity Hackathon: Bringing Diverse Minds Together to Solve Large Problems
- Conceptualized, organized, and lead three organizations - MIT Hacking Racism, Atrius Health, and Race to Better Health - to produce hackathon model as low-cost, rapid process to solve health equity-related needs, greater than 350+ participants

2016-08 -
2020-06

Postdoctoral Research Fellow, Medical Education

Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, Boston, MA

- Creator and developer of TEACH, Technological Educational Application in Clinical Heutagogy

- TEACH, adaptable and independent online tool which uses social learning to optimize medical education
- Research resulted in 2 conference talks and pending patent application

2016-08 -
2020-06

Postdoctoral Research Fellow, Gynecologic Oncology

Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, Boston, MA

- Performed several projects to understand biology of gynecological cancers with specific focus on genetics and role of immunotherapy in small cell cancer of the ovary, hypercalcemic type
- Research resulted in 2 published manuscripts and 5 scientific conference talks

2016-06 -
2020-06

Resident Physician, Obstetrics and Gynecology

Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, Boston, MA

- Internship and Residency in Obstetrics, Gynecology, and Reproductive Biology
- Notable accomplishments include receiving the Excellence in Resident Research Award 2019 and 2020, Selected to be a STAT Wunderkind 2019, AUGS Award for Excellence in Female Pelvic Medicine and Reconstructive Surgery, Featured in the I Am a Scientist Campaign sponsored by the Plenary Co.

2013-01 -
2015-12

Founding Member

GigaSpring, Boston, MA

2013-09 -
2014-04

Postdoctoral Research Fellow

St. Jude Children's Hospital, Memphis, TN

- Characterized tumor microenvironment of medulloblastoma group 3 and Shh tumors
- Study effect of CSF-1 receptor inhibition on medulloblastoma tumor growth
- Developed in vitro co-culture models systems to study interactions between medulloblastoma tumors cells and microenvironment
- Research resulted in published manuscript

2010-06 -
2013-08

Doctoral Research, Medical Engineering and Medical

Harvard-MIT Division Of Health Sciences And Techno, Cambridge, MA

- Developed novel model system to study cancer metastasis combining endothelial cells with metastatic breast cancer cells to study cell-cell interactions in metastasis
- Discovered and elucidated role of nanoChannel (nC) cytoskeletal structures in intercellular communication between metastatic breast cancer cells and endothelium coined "metastatic parasitism"
- Validated presence of nCs in vivo; demonstrated transport of

miRNAs through nCs

- Developed therapeutic strategy for disrupting nC structures using combination of actin and tubulin small molecule inhibitors
- Mentored, managed, and trained 18 undergraduate or recent postgraduate young scientists and collaborated with >10 scientists across 5 laboratories over several disciplines both domestically and internationally
- Research resulted in several published manuscripts, abstracts and invited talks

2007-01 -
2011-12

Founding Member

Tech Tutors, LLC, Boston, MA

- Co-founder of educational service provider specializing in technical fields, with three major business areas: pre-career training and supplemental education, academic and career strategic planning/advising, and educational consulting and customized programming.
- Managed administrative and instructional staff of over 50 members
- Established partnerships with educational institutions locally (MIT OEOP, YMCA Young Achievers) and internationally (Znaniye Education Centre, London, England)
- Responsibilities included, but not limited to, business development, managing business finances, developing curricula, and instructing classes
- Over > 65k revenue in first year of operation

2007-08 -
2008-06

Research Biologist

Merck & Co., Inc, Boston, United States

- Performed pre-clinical testing for development of small molecule inhibitors for new cancer therapies
- Developed in vivo and in vitro models to test potential therapeutic compounds to determine pharmacokinetic/pharmacodynamic and efficacy in various models (xenograft and GEMMs)
- Research resulted in published manuscript

2006-06 -
2007-08

Research Intern

Merck & Co., Inc, Boston, MA

- Studied relationship between notch pathway, adult stem cells, and cancer stem cells
- Evaluated effect of gamma-secretase inhibitor on intestinal and tumor progenitor cell populations in murine model

Awards

Excellence in Resident Research Award, Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, 2020
STAT Wunderkind 2019

- Award honoring young scientist for their work in academia, industry, and in the clinic
 - 22 selected (240 postdoctoral fellows, medical residents, fellows, and industry scientists nominated)
 - Selected to present at the STAT 2019 Summit
- Excellence in Resident Research Award, Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, 2019
- AUGS Award for Excellence in Female Pelvic Medicine and Reconstructive Surgery, Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, 2019
- Featured in I Am A Scientist campaign Boston, MA
- Henry Asbury Christian Award: HMS award for notable scholarship in studies or research 2016
- AACR Minority Scholar in Cancer Research Award 2014
- AACR Woman in Cancer Research Scholar Award 2014
- St. Jude National Graduate Student Symposium, Nashville, TN 2013
- 44 selected of 1641 graduate student nominees
- 1st Place Best Abstract Award in Molecular Pharmacology Division, Experimental Biology 2012
- FASEB MARC/ASPET Travel Award, Experimental Biology 2012
- US Representative for the 60th Meeting of Nobel Laureates, Lindau, Germany 2010
- Nominated by MIT and selected along with 74 graduate students nationally to participate in the annual meeting
 - 675 students from 68 countries selected to participate from over 20,000 international applicants
 - Participation sponsored by the NIH
- AACR-Susan G. Komen Scholar-in-Training Award 2010
- NIH-Medical Science Training Program (MSTP) Fellowship 2008
- UNCF-Merck Undergraduate Science Research Scholarship 2006
- Ronald E. McNair Scholarship Award (MIT Institute Award) 2006
- William L. Stewart, Jr. Award (MIT Institute Award) 2006
- Karl R. Van Tassel Award Scholarship 2005
- American Chemical Society Scholarship 2003
- Leo F. Black Health Career Scholarship (Mayo Clinic) 2003

Interests & Experiences

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

I have grown up my entire life in Chapel Hill and have seen the immense development of the community. I cannot imagine a future where I am not living in Chapel Hill therefore I would like to sit on the board that decides its future.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

I have always cared for Chapel Hill, I started out as a firefighter where I earned the hometown hero award gifted to me by the chief of police (chief Blue) and the chief of the fire department (chief Sullivan). I have also been a caregiver of my brother who was diagnosed with Down Syndrome as well as a volunteer for Best Buddies (a program where you mentor a person diagnosed with an intellectual developmental disability) while I attended university,

Ethics Statement

ETHICS GUIDELINES FOR TOWN ADVISORY BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

Members of advisory boards and commissions shall not vote on any matter in which they have a conflict of interest or an interest which reasonably might appear to be in conflict with the concept of fairness in dealing with public business. A conflict of interest or a potential conflict occurs if the outcome of the matter being considered is reasonably likely to have a direct, substantial, and readily identifiable financial impact on the member. In addition, members of the Historic District Commission and Board of Adjustment, when these boards are hearing cases, serve as quasi-judicial bodies. Pursuant to General Statute 160D-109(d), members of these boards “shall not participate in or vote on any quasi-judicial matter in a manner that would violate affected persons’ constitutional rights to an impartial decision maker. Impermissible violations of due process include, but are not limited to, a member having a fixed opinion prior to hearing the matter that is not susceptible to change, undisclosed ex parte communications, a close familial, business, or other associational relationship with an affected person, or a financial interest in the outcome of the matter.”

Any member who violates these Ethics Guidelines may be subject to removal from the board or commission. If the advisory board or commission member believes he/she has a conflict of interest then that member shall recuse himself/herself from voting on the matter. In cases where the individual member or the advisory board or commission establishes a conflict of interest, then the advisory board or commission member shall remove themselves from the voting area. Any advisory board or commission member may seek the counsel of the Town Attorney on questions regarding the interpretation of these ethics guidelines or other conflict of interest matters. The interpretation may include a recommendation on whether or not the advisory board or commission member should excuse himself/herself from voting. The advisory board or commission member may request the Town Attorney respond in writing.

Other (provide additional information below)

If you chose "Other" from the advertising opportunity listed above, please specify:

I'm a participant in The Chamber for a Greater Chapel Hill-Carrboro Leadership 2022 Cohort. Part of our program includes getting involved. Chapel Hill is my hometown. I have moved back home after living outside of the state since graduating from college, hence my years as a resident is split between childhood and recent return.

Interests & Experiences

Question applies to multiple boards

How do you describe your previous advisory board experience?

Little or No Experience

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

As a native Chapel Hill resident, whose family is connected for several generations, I see the changes and understand the need for harmony between historical charm and economic development. In my 29+ years of ministry and pastoral work in northern and midwestern states, I've always contended that Chapel Hill is a unique and special place to live. It is my desire to ensure our growth while maintaining our integrity.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

My interest in serving on this board is based upon my love and loyalty to Chapel Hill life! As a child, we knew experienced our hometown in two distinct sects; the campus life and the residential life. Downtown Chapel Hill was the place where the two towns intersected with greater ease. From my careers in public school education, financial management, government contracting, and community engagement via the pastoral ministry my skills and abilities are multi-faceted.

Question applies to Planning Commission

Do you have special interest, experience, or education/training in city planning, design field, environment, housing, transportation or related fields? If yes, please explain.

I have not worked in these departments, but having served as a pastor for many years in Detroit, I've assisted congregants as they have navigated the impact of planning commission decisions. However, as a native of Chapel Hill, my most significant interest is in the future of my hometown.

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

I had been a tenant here in Chapel Hill for almost 20 years a just got an affordable rental which helps with cost of living. It has been a stressful many years raising kids and trying to pay the high rent which I could not afford. This cause many insecurities like food and necessities. I want to be a voice for tenants and advocate for affordable housing for all.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

I'm a Sr Health Associate at McKesson. I have worked in Healthcare for 13 years and provided support to local doctors and patients. I'm passionate too about people being able to live and work in Chapel Hill. The University brought me here in 1994 from Rocky Mount NC. I lost a son here 10 years ago and at that time I was struggling with maintaining a place to stay and feeding my family. My years of working, my life , and my determination to see more people enjoy living in Chapel Hill are a few different things a I bring to both boards chosen. I was Raped here to and Justice matters to me. I'm a Criminal Justice Student with a Concentration in Computer Justice Forensics.

Ethics Statement

ETHICS GUIDELINES FOR TOWN ADVISORY BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

Members of advisory boards and commissions shall not vote on any matter in which they have a conflict of interest or an interest which reasonably might appear to be in conflict with the concept of fairness in dealing with public business. A conflict of interest or a potential conflict occurs if the outcome of the matter being considered is reasonably likely to have a direct, substantial, and readily identifiable financial impact on the member. In addition, members of the Historic District Commission and Board of Adjustment, when these boards are hearing cases, serve as quasi-judicial bodies. Pursuant to General Statute 160D-109(d), members of these boards “shall not participate in or vote on any quasi-judicial matter in a manner that would violate affected persons’ constitutional rights to an impartial decision maker. Impermissible violations of due process include, but are not limited to, a member having a fixed opinion prior to hearing the matter that is not susceptible to change, undisclosed ex parte communications, a close familial, business, or other associational relationship with an affected person, or a financial interest in the outcome of the matter.”

Any member who violates these Ethics Guidelines may be subject to removal from the board or commission. If the advisory board or commission member believes he/she has a conflict of interest then that member shall recuse himself/herself from voting on the matter. In cases where the individual member or the advisory board or commission establishes a conflict of interest, then the advisory board or commission member shall remove themselves from the voting area. Any advisory board or commission member may seek the counsel of the Town Attorney on questions regarding the interpretation of these ethics guidelines or other conflict of interest matters. The interpretation may include a recommendation on whether or not the advisory board or commission member should excuse himself/herself from voting. The advisory board or commission member may request the Town Attorney respond in writing.

Interests & Experiences

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

I bring a perspective of a former UNC student turned UNC Employee. I have lived in CH/Carrboro for over 15 years. I work at the Hub for Social Justice (Campus Y) on campus and would also value connecting UNC students to the work of the Justice in Action committee. In particular, most of my students come from backgrounds that have been historically marginalized and I want to find ways to elevate their stories and empower them to make positive change in our community. The only way for us to move forward is to expand the table and include as many voices and perspectives as possible. I am also a caregiver for my elderly mother and have been experiencing Chapel Hill through her eyes over the past 2 years. She moved to this area after my father passed and is disabled. I have been learning a lot about what it means to be elderly and have a disability and navigate our community.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

I have been a higher education professional for over 10 years and have served on boards previously. I recognize the importance of boards and why they are created. I have skills facilitating dialogue across difference as well as creating spaces that are inclusive to folks with a variety of lived experiences. I have also participating in strategic planning processes to help an organization/committee reprioritize goals and re-evaluate missions. I am deeply passionate about being a member of a community that is deeply rooted in social justice and strives to create a space where all voices are heard. I would love for this committee to perform listening sessions across the community (similar to Sarah's "Let's Talk Town" sessions). We can hear from community leaders about what issues are most pressing to them and find ways to elevate their concerns to our Town Commissioners/Mayor.

Ethics Statement

ETHICS GUIDELINES FOR TOWN ADVISORY BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

Members of advisory boards and commissions shall not vote on any matter in which they have a conflict of interest or an interest which reasonably might appear to be in conflict with the concept of fairness in dealing with public business. A conflict of interest or a potential conflict occurs if the outcome of the matter being considered is reasonably likely to have a direct, substantial, and readily identifiable financial impact on the member. In addition, members of the Historic District Commission and Board of Adjustment, when these boards are hearing cases, serve as quasi-judicial bodies. Pursuant to General Statute 160D-109(d), members of these boards “shall not participate in or vote on any quasi-judicial matter in a manner that would violate affected persons’ constitutional rights to an impartial decision maker. Impermissible violations of due process include, but are not limited to, a member having a fixed opinion prior to hearing the matter that is not susceptible to change, undisclosed ex parte communications, a close familial, business, or other associational relationship with an affected person, or a financial interest in the outcome of the matter.” Any member who violates these Ethics Guidelines may be subject to removal from the board or commission. If the advisory board or commission member believes he/she has a conflict of interest then that member shall recuse himself/herself from voting on the matter. In cases where the individual member or the advisory board or commission establishes a conflict of interest, then the advisory board or commission member shall remove themselves from the voting area. Any advisory board or commission member may seek the counsel of the Town Attorney on questions regarding the interpretation of these ethics guidelines or other conflict of interest matters. The interpretation may include a recommendation on whether or not the advisory board or commission member should excuse himself/herself from voting. The advisory board or commission member may request the Town Attorney respond in writing.

I Agree *

Applications will be kept on file from July 1st to June 30th of the same fiscal year. Please reapply each fiscal year if you are still interested in serving on an Advisory Board, Commission, Committee or Task Force and have not yet been appointed.

Interests & Experiences

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

I come from a liberal, working class background. Three generations of my family have enjoyed and utilized the resources in this wonderful community. Two of my children matriculated from UNC. As a mental health professional, I appreciate a diversity of thought and opinion. I consider it essential to understand all sides of an issue before making judgments and decisions.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

I have lived in Chapel Hill for 9 years. I love this liberal community. By trade, I am a retired Mental Health Counselor. I contracted with the US Military as a mental health professional for 10 years. I also worked as the Director of Children's Services at a Domestic Violence shelter in Wilson County for two years. I understand the importance of interagency education and cooperation as well as the barriers to resource access.

Ethics Statement

ETHICS GUIDELINES FOR TOWN ADVISORY BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

Members of advisory boards and commissions shall not vote on any matter in which they have a conflict of interest or an interest which reasonably might appear to be in conflict with the concept of fairness in dealing with public business. A conflict of interest or a potential conflict occurs if the outcome of the matter being considered is reasonably likely to have a direct, substantial, and readily identifiable financial impact on the member. In addition, members of the Historic District Commission and Board of Adjustment, when these boards are hearing cases, serve as quasi-judicial bodies. Pursuant to General Statute 160D-109(d), members of these boards “shall not participate in or vote on any quasi-judicial matter in a manner that would violate affected persons’ constitutional rights to an impartial decision maker. Impermissible violations of due process include, but are not limited to, a member having a fixed opinion prior to hearing the matter that is not susceptible to change, undisclosed ex parte communications, a close familial, business, or other associational relationship with an affected person, or a financial interest in the outcome of the matter.”

Any member who violates these Ethics Guidelines may be subject to removal from the board or commission. If the advisory board or commission member believes he/she has a conflict of interest then that member shall recuse himself/herself from voting on the matter. In cases where the individual member or the advisory board or commission establishes a conflict of interest, then the advisory board or commission member shall remove themselves from the voting area. Any advisory board or commission member may seek the counsel of the Town Attorney on questions regarding the interpretation of these ethics guidelines or other conflict of interest matters. The interpretation may include a recommendation on whether or not the advisory board or commission member should excuse himself/herself from voting. The advisory board or commission member may request the Town Attorney respond in writing.
