What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

For the Cultural Arts Commission, I have a longtime background in the arts dating back to performing in college and high school. As a member of the NYS Legislature, I served for five terms as a member of the Tourism & Arts Committee, authoring legislation and securing funding for major arts institutions in Manhattan. In my current career, I handle government relations for the Broadway League, the national trade association for live entertainment, and also represent the Lincoln Center performing arts complex. For the Downtown Partnership, I have worked with local business communities throughout my time in the public and private sectors -- especially helping them survive challenging economic periods such as the time we're in now -- and received recognition from a diverse group of advocates from realtors to social service organizations to higher education institutions for my efforts. I currently serve on the Board of the Manhattan Chamber of Commerce and the Steering Committee of the Association for a Better New York.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

Though my family and I moved to Chapel Hill during the pandemic, my wife was born and raised here and her family has resided in Chapel Hill for 60+ years. I have spent significant in the Triangle over the past 20 years. My experience as a former New York State legislator and agency head, and current work as a government relations professional, gives me unique experience on working with government and getting things done.

Ethics Statement

ETHICS GUIDELINES FOR TOWN ADVISORY BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

Members of advisory boards and commissions shall not vote on any matter in which they have a conflict of interest or an interest which reasonably might appear to be in conflict with the concept of fairness in dealing with public business. A conflict of interest or a potential conflict occurs if the outcome of the matter being considered is reasonably likely to have a direct, substantial, and readily identifiable financial impact on the member. In addition, members of the Historic District Commission and Board of Adjustment, when these boards are hearing cases, serve as quasi-judicial bodies. Pursuant to General Statute 160D-109(d), members of these boards “shall not participate in or vote on any quasi-judicial matter in a manner that would violate affected persons’ constitutional rights to an impartial decision maker. Impermissible violations of due process include, but are not limited to, a member having a fixed opinion prior to hearing the matter that is not susceptible to change, undisclosed ex parte communications, a close familial, business, or other associational relationship with an affected person, or a financial interest in the outcome of the matter.” Any member who violates these Ethics Guidelines may be subject to removal from the board or commission. If the advisory board or commission member believes he/she has a conflict of interest then that member shall recuse himself/herself from voting on the matter. In cases where the individual member or the advisory board or commission establishes a conflict of interest, then the advisory board or commission member shall remove themselves from the voting area. Any advisory board or commission member may seek the counsel of the Town Attorney on questions regarding the interpretation of these ethics guidelines or other conflict of interest matters. The interpretation may include a recommendation on whether or not the advisory board or commission member should excuse himself/herself from voting. The advisory board or commission member may request the Town Attorney respond in writing.

Ethics Statement

Members of advisory boards and commissions shall not discuss, advocate, or vote on any matter in which they have a conflict of interest or an interest which reasonably might appear to be in conflict with the concept of fairness in dealing with public business. A conflict of interest or a potential conflict occurs if a member has a separate, private, or monetary interest, either direct or indirect, in any issue or transaction under consideration. In addition, members of the Historic District Commission and Board of Adjustment, when these boards are hearing cases, serve as quasi-judicial bodies. Pursuant to State Statute 106A-388(e)(2), members of these boards “shall not participate in or vote on any quasi-judicial matter in a manner that would violate affected persons’ constitutional rights to an impartial decision maker. Any member who violates these Ethics Guidelines may be subject to removal from the board or commission. If the advisory board or commission member believes he/she has a conflict of interest then that member should ask the advisory board or commission to be recused from voting. The advisory board or commission should then vote on the question on whether or not to excuse the member making the request. In cases where the individual member or the advisory board or commission establishes a conflict of interest, then the advisory board or commission member shall remove themselves from the voting area. Any advisory board or commission member may seek the counsel of the Town Attorney on questions regarding the interpretation of these ethics guidelines or other conflict of interest matters. The interpretation may include a recommendation on whether or not the advisory board or commission member should excuse himself/herself from voting. Overview

Jerel is the author of “Sharpening China’s Talent” and a TEDx speaker. He is a ‘human behavior awareness’ consultant, advising and coaching senior level executives. Jerel has a keen eye for observing human behavior patterns, and a solid foundation of how those actions impress those they are working with. He helps others confront reality, so that they can learn how to reach their full potential. Jerel has over 1500 hours of coaching experience, built on the foundational conviction that relationship and expertise power are more effective than role power. Prior to starting Corraling Chaos, he was an executive coach supporting multinational corporations in China for 14 years. Jerel has also delivered lectures to the Fundan University MBA program, the JiaoTong University’s MBA-C program, and has made business presentations to audiences around the world.

Coaching Methodology

His coaching system is built on the foundation that relationship and expertise power creates more influence on an individual than role power. Through regularly scheduled one-on-one meetings, he builds a strong foundation of trust with his coachees that strengthen their self-confidence. He creates a blended learning program from common every day resources that match’s the employee’s learning style. Jerel has a sharp eye for observing and measuring behaviors that deliver desired results within organizations. His strength is in his ability to help people feel comfortable with the decisions they have made in their personal and professional lives.

Speaking and Presentation Style

From over two decades as a leader in Toastmasters International clubs including being an Area Governor and former club President of several Toastmasters International clubs, including Nanjing, which he co-founded, Jerel has honed his presentation abilities. He delivers training that is practicable and actionable. He shares his past work and learning experiences with his trainees so that they are motivated to succeed. He guides them to think about how to apply what they’ve learned so that their managers can observe a change in their behavior. He helps them connect the dots of the training concepts to their managers and organizations’ goals, which leads them to create more value back in the office.

Interests & Experiences

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

I graduated from UNC in 2020 with a bachelors in environmental science and am now a permanent Chapel Hill resident who works in RTP. I know that many students and recent graduates benefit greatly from an accessible, inclusive downtown. However, I have heard from my peers that they can feel excluded from town-level decisions even if they stay in the area after graduation. I am applying to this advisory board because I believe strongly in including younger voices into political conversations. Since I regularly follow student and local perspectives on downtown changes through the news and social media, I feel I could accurately bring those into this role.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

I was a writer and assistant editor at the Daily Tar Heel on the city and state news desk from 2018-2019. As part of this role, I spoke a lot with local business owners, politicians, and other community members. This gave me a key understanding of town politics that went beyond my personal experiences, in addition to a strong sense of news literacy. My educational and work experience in sustainability would be another asset to this advisory board. I am passionate about transit and accessibility, and I feel this perspective will be valuable for downtown planning. Finally, I grew up in a multigenerational immigrant household and work well in diverse groups.

Interests & Experiences

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

As a member of this community since 2016, I have had the privilege to experience Chapel Hill as a student, university employee, volunteer, healthcare provider, and civilian. Witnessing the crucial roles the University and Town have in the everyday life of the members of our community, as well as, the various ways in which these members contribute to these institutions, has exposed me to many of the diverse social, cultural, and structural needs of our community and concerns in ensuring these needs are met in a socioeconomically, just manner. I have a passion for serving others and seek to one day be a physician, where I can serve Chapel Hill as a healthcare and community leader. I seek to fulfill the social responsibilities of medicine by pursuing health equity and treating individuals and communities, rather than illnesses. In preparation for this, I have engaged in many volunteering and clinical experiences that have brought me often quite literally into the homes of Chapel Hill residents where I have been exposed to socioeconomic disparities and challenges our community faces. Through the lens of healthcare, I have seen the impact that these socioeconomic, cultural, and structural factors have on accessibility to healthcare and quality of life. I believe this perspective and my various roles within the community, will allow me to contribute as a member of a committee to help meet the needs of our community and make Chapel Hill a happier and healthier place for all.

Cameron R Sutton

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

My volunteer and clinical experiences have provided me insight into how social determinants of health manifest into health inequalities. Moreover, these experiences have allowed me to interact and engage with a diverse range of individuals, who have different circumstances, backgrounds, beliefs, and needs than myself. My research and teaching experiences have provided me collaboration, critical thinking, and leadership skills that are beneficial as a group contributor or leader. Particularly, my ability to identify, adapt to, and build upon strengths and weaknesses among my team members has been vital in finding solutions to problems and achieving our goals. I aspire to contribute these experiences, perspectives, and skills while serving as a member of a committee to fulfill our mission.

Ethics Statement

ETHICS GUIDELINES FOR TOWN ADVISORY BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

Members of advisory boards and commissions shall not vote on any matter in which they have a conflict of interest or an interest which reasonably might appear to be in conflict with the concept of fairness in dealing with public business. A conflict of interest or a potential conflict occurs if the outcome of the matter being considered is reasonably likely to have a direct, substantial, and readily identifiable financial impact on the member. In addition, members of the Historic District Commission and Board of Adjustment, when these boards are hearing cases, serve as quasi-judicial bodies. Pursuant to General Statute 160D-109(d), members of these boards “shall not participate in or vote on any quasi-judicial matter in a manner that would violate affected persons’ constitutional rights to an impartial decision maker. Impermissible violations of due process include, but are not limited to, a member having a fixed opinion prior to hearing the matter that is not susceptible to change, undisclosed ex parte communications, a close familial, business, or other associational relationship with an affected person, or a financial interest in the outcome of the matter.” Any member who violates these Ethics Guidelines may be subject to removal from the board or commission. If the advisory board or commission member believes he/she has a conflict of interest then that member shall recuse himself/herself from voting on the matter. In cases where the individual member or the advisory board or commission establishes a conflict of interest, then the advisory board or commission member shall remove themselves from the voting area. Any advisory board or commission member may seek the counsel of the Town Attorney on questions regarding the interpretation of these ethics guidelines or other conflict of interest matters. The interpretation may include a recommendation on whether or not the advisory board or commission member should excuse himself/herself from voting. The advisory board or commission member may request the Town Attorney respond in writing.

EDUCATION

- BS University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill May 2020
- Major – Biology; Minor – Chemistry
 - GPA: 4.0, Highest Distinction
 - Awards: Dean’s List 2016 - 2020

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Research Assistant, UNC-CH, Dep. of Biochem. and Biophys. September 2020 – Present
Advisor: Dr. Brian Strahl

- Lead the Strahl Lab’s collaboration with the UNC HIV Cure Center.
- Decipher the epigenetic regulation of HIV.
- Utilize in vitro cell lines and donor primary tCD4 cells to identify and test latency reversal agents (LRAs) as single and combinatorial treatments.
- Analyze and elucidate the underlying mechanisms and cellular pathways through which LRAs reverse latency.
- Mentor Undergraduate and High School students.

Undergraduate Research Assistant, UNC-CH, Dep. of Biology August 2019 – May 2020
Advisor: Dr. Frank Conlon

- Characterized a novel, Brachyury mutant mouse strain to be used in the identification of Brachyury’s transcriptional targets.
- Utilized a mouse model and molecular biology techniques to elucidate how Brachyury functions in vivo during development.

M. “Combined non-canonical NF- κ B agonism and targeted BET bromodomain 2 inhibition reverses HIV latency ex vivo.” Journal of Clinical Investigation. March 2022.

Presentation, “Profiling Chromatin Regulators in HIV Latency,” Qura Therapeutics/ ViiV Healthcare/ UNC HIV Cure Center Scientific Symposium, May 2021.

Oral Presentation, “Reactivation of HIV Latency through inhibition of PRC2 Subunit EED,” HIV Cure Center Webinar Series, April 2021.

Oral Presentation, “The Tole of Histone Chaperones in Reversing HIV Latency,” Collaboration of Aids Researchers for Eradication (CARE) Webinar, March 2021.

Poster Presentation, “Identification of Brachyury’s Transcriptional Targets,” Undergraduate Research Symposium at The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, April 2020.

CLINICAL EXPERIENCE

MedEx Medical Transportation, February 2021 – Present

- Provide emergent and non-emergent basic life support interventions as an EMT in pre- and post-hospital healthcare settings, throughout rural and urban North Carolina.

Physician Shadowing at Surgical Specialist of Charlotte, May 2017 – August 2018

- Obtained patient history information and debrief the doctor before he saw patients.
- Observed in-patient and out-patient surgeries.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

COVID-19 Friday Center Vaccination Clinic Volunteer, January 2021 – May 2021

- Served as a shift lead to manage operations and support patients through their vaccination process.
- Rotated between many roles such as: greeter, contraindication screener, eligibility and demographic screener, patient observer, and patient discharger.
- Provided PPE, preparing clinic supplies, enforcing clinic protocols, assisting with medical translation devices, and training other volunteers.

EMT-B Assistant Instructor, August 2020 – November 2020

- Taught didactic knowledge and practical skills, to EMT-B students at Durham Technical Community College.

UNC Health COVID-19 Wellness Screener, June 2020 – January 2021

- Served various patient populations by providing non-medical, patient and non-patient care.
- Supported patients and employees by conduction COVID-19 wellness screenings, providing PPE, and maintaining acceptable physical distance among patients and visitors.

- “Seeing a Smile Through a Mask” Project, May 2020 – March 2021
- Made and distributed masks to the local homeless population for whom access to masks was unattainable, during the COVID-19 pandemic

- UNC Health Emergency Department Volunteer, January 2020 – March 2020
- Provided non-clinical support as a liaison for staff, patients, and visitors.
 - Served a diverse population by checking in patients and visitors, transporting patients, cleaning patient rooms and care areas, answering patient call lights, and rounding through patient care areas to assess their needs and maintain comfort.

- Section 8 Public Housing Development Volunteer, June 2018 – July 2018
- Worked with Night Owl Construction to assist in the building of public housing to low-income populations through the U.S Department of Housing and Urban Development’s Section 8 housing program.

- Water Safety Instructor, May 2015 – August 2018
- Taught the importance of water safety, the proper use of water equipment, and emergency response procedures to children of various ages.
 - Served as a swim instructor for children in summer camps.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

- Mentoring Undergraduate and High School Researchers, September 2020 – Present
- Teach basic science principles and laboratory skills to students.
 - Mentor students through research projects.

- Tutoring, August 2018 – Present
- Work in one-on-one and small group settings to share my philosophy of learning with students to help them achieve personal growth and academic success.
 - Prepare and teach lesson plans for various STEM courses.
 - Analyze students’ strengths and weaknesses and adapt in response to these cues.

- UNC Department of Biology Peer Mentoring Program, August 2017 – May 2019
- Served as a Peer Mentor for one year in an introductory biology lab, where I worked with students in class and offered one-on-one office hours each week.
 - Served as a Supplemental Instructor for an Anatomy & Physiology lecture. Responsibilities included assisting in lecture, making practice problems used in my review sessions, developing test questions, providing course specific learning strategies, and more.

OTHER

- Introductory Laboratory Skills Video Series, January 2022 – Present
- Developing an educational video series to teach essential lab skills to student and employee researchers.
