

B3

A series of 10 artist-led workshops for people with disabilities and their allies. Workshops will be followed by at least one disability-themed art showcase featuring the art created by workshop participants.

Bridging the Gap

A series of workshops with High School Students exploring how to build youth coalitions and creatively, powerfully, and visually communicate their message. Participants will brainstorm, select materials, and learn fabric dying and printing skills to create banners and build giant puppets that amplify their message. "Chapel Hill Children's March" will participate in the 2024 Chapel Hill – Carrboro Holiday Parade and 2025 Juneteenth Celebration.

Chinese School of Chapel Hill

Free community festival for everyone to experience traditional Chinese arts and culture, including Peking Opera, paper-cutting, calligraphy, painting, and music. The Spring Festival will take place in Chapel Hill at a location TBD.

Hannah Ruth Foundation

Conduct Living Legends 4.0, a 6-8 week oral history preservation project for local Black youth and elders. Youth will learn about oral history techniques, conduct research, and create video recordings. Community celebration will showcase the video and participants, and recordings will be made available online afterwards.

IFC for Social Services

Expansion of IFC / Bridges Art Therapy "Art Hive" program to include shelters in Chapel Hill. Art Hives are monthly sessions where people come together as community to create art. An art therapist facilitates the program by providing art supplies in a safe and inclusive space.

Orange County Rape Crisis Center

A series of (4) Zentangle workshops for participants to experience empowerment, grounding, and mindfulness with community in a safe and inclusive space. Artist-facilitator will construct a collaborative art piece assembled from participants work and display it publicly as a symbol of the triumph of spirit over hardship and the bonds of community.

Prism

Organizers will work with local artist Tarish Pipkins, aka Jeghetto, to bring his puppetry performance of 5P1N0K10 (Spinokio) to the students of all CHCCS Middle Schools.
