Subject: Amy Harvey & Council: Resolution on Torture and Dec 15 Proclamation

Amy Harvey
Clerk to the Board of Chapel Hill Town Council

As I discussed with you, I am preparing the annual Bill of Rights Day Ceremony on Bill of Rights Day, December 15. This year the day falls on a Saturday and I hope Mayor Hemminger or someone she designates will read her Proclamation from the town, in 2017 joining one with Carrboro Mayor Lydia Lavelle. All the council is invited to participate at noon at Peace and Justice Plaza. This year I would like to include a stand for NC's transparency against the use of torture of everyone (covered in the 8th Amendment).

Attached is a draft of a Resolution I hope the Town Council will consider passing either on a Business Meeting November 7 or November 27, or December 5, in order for such a Resolution to be included in the Proclamation on December 15.

I do not have copies of the 84-paged impressive North Carolina Commission of Inquiry on Torture Report (NCTortureReport.org) for all Council members, so I will give you two copies, one for Mayor Pam Hemminger and the other for Mayor Pro Tem Jessica Anderson; then they can share these with the other board members who may find reading the report on-line difficult.

Thank you,
