Ethics Statement

ETHICS GUIDELINES FOR TOWN ADVISORY BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

Members of advisory boards and commissions shall not discuss, advocate, or vote on any matter in which they have a conflict of interest or an interest which reasonably might appear to be in conflict with the concept of fairness in dealing with public business. A conflict of interest or a potential conflict occurs if a member has a separate, private, or monetary interest, either direct or indirect, in any issue or transaction under consideration. In addition, members of the Historic District Commission and Board of Adjustment, when these boards are hearing cases, serve as quasi-judicial bodies. Pursuant to State Statute 106A-388(e)(2), members of these boards “shall not participate in or vote on any quasi-judicial matter in a manner that would violate affected persons’ constitutional rights to an impartial decision maker. Impermissible violations of due process include, but are not limited to, a member having a fixed opinion prior to hearing the matter that is not susceptible to change, undisclosed ex parte communications, a close familial, business, or other associational relationship with an affected person, or a financial interest in the outcome of the matter.” Any member who violates these Ethics Guidelines may be subject to removal from the board or commission. If the advisory board or commission member believes he/she has a conflict of interest then that member should ask the advisory board or commission to be recused from voting. The advisory board or commission should then vote on the question on whether or not to excuse the member making the request. In cases where the individual member or the advisory board or commission establishes a conflict of interest, then the advisory board or commission member shall remove themselves from the voting area. Any advisory board or commission member may seek the counsel of the Town Attorney on questions regarding the interpretation of these ethics guidelines or other conflict of interest matters. The interpretation may include a recommendation on whether or not the advisory board or commission member should excuse himself/herself from voting. The advisory board or commission member may request the Town Attorney respond in writing.

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

Having served as a Resident Assistant at Appalachian State University and a former member of the Student Government Association at the same University, I have experience serving on various committees while in college. I would love the opportunity to gain real world experience by serving a community that not only impacts college students, but people of all ages and occupations.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

As an Eagle Scout and graduate of Appalachian State University, I thoroughly enjoy being in the outdoors, and it is my desire to provide opportunities for all people to engage and experience the outside world. Having recently moved to the area, my wife and I have been very impressed with the network of paved and unpaved trails that weave through the town. I would be honored to be a voice of the community in seeking to make the outdoor engagement opportunities even more accessible to the residents, students, and visitors who come through Chapel Hill. In addition, as an International Comparative Politics major, I had the opportunity to study injustices on a macro scale, and I would love the opportunity to be a part of bringing justice on a micro level to the residents of Chapel Hill through the Justice in Action Committee.

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

As a lifelong resident of Chapel Hill, this town has raised me. Recently, I had the opportunity to learn more about the role local government and have come to realize the impact that the Town of Chapel Hill local government has played in my life. Now as a student at UNC Chapel Hill, I would love to help the town that has given me so much. I am passionate about the environment and have planned on having a career in environmental policy since the 9th grade. At UNC I have been able to expand on that interest by double majoring in Environmental Studies and Public Policy and joining impactful social groups on campus such as the Renewable Energy Special Projects Committee. I have gained unique insight into the town through both growing up in it and in attending the University which is at its heart. As apart of the Environmental Stewardship Advisory Board, I plan to bring with me the up-to-date knowledge of environmental issues I am currently studying at UNC, as well as the perspective of a lifelong resident of this town. It would be an honor to serve the town of Chapel Hill.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

The young perspective I would bring to this board is matched my thorough understanding of local environmental issues. As an environmental studies major I plan to bring relevant problem solving to environmental issues that Chapel Hill faces. In addition, my classes on public policy have provided me with a strong understanding of local government necessary for this advisory board. What I may lack in experience, I bring in a deep passion for environmental problem solving and up to date information as a student at UNC.

Interests & Experiences

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

In my 30-year nonprofit career, I have worked in management in finance, marketing/communications, development and information services. For 20 of those years, I have also served on several nonprofit boards as a director, a committee/task force member, and in leadership roles as officers of the organization. My experience in management and in strategic planning and development have helped me understand the issues of organizations that rely on volunteer participation and that must make the most out of always scarce resources—financial as well as staffing. There is always too much to do with too little help and too many great ideas! In addition to relevant work and volunteer experience, I have a BS in Business Administration from Carolina, a MA in Liberal Studies from UNCG and a Certificate in Nonprofit Management from Duke.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

My family and I have lived in Chapel Hill for 19 years. (Although our primary residence is outside the town limits now, we remain owners of several properties inside the town limits.) The parks and trails as well as the recreation facilities and sports programs have not only provided my children and me with access to healthy and sustaining activities but also taught us lifelong skills. I have many memories of bright sunny days spent riding bikes, walking, skipping, swimming, playing volleyball and basketball and I honor the commitment the town has made to providing these opportunities to us and our neighbors. I wish to offer my time and energy to the community that has given me so much. I bring great energy, an understanding of the inner workings of organizations and the commitment required to be an effective committee member, and a passion to act locally to make our world—even if it is in our small corner of it—more meaningful, healthy and sustaining.

ETHICS GUIDELINES FOR TOWN ADVISORY BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

Members of advisory boards and commissions shall not discuss, advocate, or vote on any matter in which they have a conflict of interest or an interest which reasonably might appear to be in conflict with the concept of fairness in dealing with public business. A conflict of interest or a potential conflict occurs if a member has a separate, private, or monetary interest, either direct or indirect, in any issue or transaction under consideration. In addition, members of the Historic District Commission and Board of Adjustment, when these boards are hearing cases, serve as quasi-judicial bodies. Pursuant to State Statute 106A-388(e)(2), members of these boards “shall not participate in or vote on any quasi-judicial matter in a manner that would violate affected persons’ constitutional rights to an impartial decision maker. Impermissible violations of due process include, but are not limited to, a member having a fixed opinion prior to hearing the matter that is not susceptible to change, undisclosed ex parte communications, a close familial, business, or other associational relationship with an affected person, or a financial interest in the outcome of the matter.” Any member who violates these Ethics Guidelines may be subject to removal from the board or commission. If the advisory board or commission member believes he/she has a conflict of interest then that member should ask the advisory board or commission to be recused from voting. The advisory board or commission should then vote on the question on whether or not to excuse the member making the request. In cases where the individual member or the advisory board or commission establishes a conflict of interest, then the advisory board or commission member shall remove themselves from the voting area. Any advisory board or commission member may seek the counsel of the Town Attorney on questions regarding the interpretation of these ethics guidelines or other conflict of interest matters. The interpretation may include a recommendation on whether or not the advisory board or commission member should excuse himself/herself from voting. The advisory board or commission member may request the Town Attorney respond in writing.

I served on the Youth Advisory Commission to the mayor in my hometown (Omaha, NE) and found the experience rewarding and productive; now that I am a UNC-CH student, I want to be involved and give back in the same way here in Chapel Hill. To me, civic engagement is an important part of being a citizen. Getting involved in my new city is how I want to contribute. For the Parks, Greenways and Recreation Commission in particular, I am interested in land management and the creation of public spaces

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

To whom it may concern, Having spent most of life in Europe I have become very accustomed to a centralized lifestyle, shaped by interconnectivity and ease of access by foot or bike in my community. It is my feeling that Chapel Hill has laid the groundwork with several parks and greenways which should be to interlinked with each other, making our community safer for families and thus increasing overall quality of life. Regards, Jochen Schwarz

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

Being that I work in business commercial banking, I believe it is important for us to focus more on the economics of the board. To further improve these and thus the services of the community we serve I suggest the following. - further interconnectivity - seek sponsorship - further summer programs - partner with surrounding communities - promote what we do, become more visible!

In addition, members of the Historic District Commission and Board of Adjustment, when these boards are hearing cases, serve as quasi-judicial bodies. Pursuant to State Statute 106A-388(e)(2), members of these boards “shall not participate in or vote on any quasi-judicial matter in a manner that would violate affected persons’ constitutional rights to an impartial decision maker. Impermissible violations of due process include, but are not limited to, a member having a fixed opinion prior to hearing the matter that is not susceptible to change, undisclosed ex parte communications, a close familial, business, or other associational relationship with an affected person, or a financial interest in the outcome of the matter.” Any member who violates these Ethics Guidelines may be subject to removal from the board or commission. If the advisory board or commission member believes he/she has a conflict of interest then that member should ask the advisory board or commission to be recused from voting. The advisory board or commission should then vote on the question on whether or not to excuse the member making the request. In cases where the individual member or the advisory board or commission establishes a conflict of interest, then the advisory board or commission member shall remove themselves from the voting area. Any advisory board or commission member may seek the counsel of the Town Attorney on questions regarding the interpretation of these ethics guidelines or other conflict of interest matters. The interpretation may include a recommendation on whether or not the advisory board or commission member should excuse himself/herself from voting. The advisory board or commission member may request the Town Attorney respond in writing.

Interests & Experiences

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

I'm a long-time Chapel Hill resident and parent to 6 children that have all grown up in Chapel Hill, with all having gone through Chapel Hill High. As an entrepreneur, I owned my own technology and marketing consulting businesses for 20 years and am now part of a global consulting firm, and am proud to call Chapel Hill home. My wife grew up here and spent many years at UNC. We are avid runners and are active with two local running groups: the Trailheads, who are regulars on the trails of Carolina North and sponsor the Philosophers' Way trail race, and the Millstriders, who are active users of the roads and greenways in Chapel Hill. When I'm not running, I'm swimming laps at one of the local community pools. Through these groups, the hundreds of miles that I have run and laps I have swum in Chapel Hill, I am a strong advocate for the role that the Chapel Hill community plays in healthy, safe parks and greenways.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

I have taken a strong interest in greenway development around Chapel Hill as the current phases of Bolin Creek and Tanyard Branch near completion, with more in the construction and planning stages. I believe these greenways benefit the Chapel Hill community as a method of environmentally friendly transportation, promotion of a healthy lifestyle and a sense of community, which I've learned firsthand. I recognize the importance of balancing the positive impacts of this development with the environmental considerations, such as development along our waterways, reduction of our hardwood forests and the challenges presented by prior generations including Chapel Hill's landfills and coal ash deposits. I am an advocate in strategic planning which overcomes these challenges through a cooperative effort between the town, UNC and state / federal agencies, and leverages prior development as much as possible to support our investments in these important community resources.
