What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

As my first year at UNC Chapel Hill is coming to an end, I'm beginning to look back and regret not having more involvement in the arts. In high school, I was the President of the Art department and those days hold some of my favorite memories. The group was full of diversity and love for one another and the community of Greenville, NC. We were extremely involved with the community and my role was to act as the bridge between students and community programs/events. I would love to bring this connection to the Cultural Arts Commission and the university.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

I am majoring in Studio Art (concentration in painting) with an emphasis on Art History, with the intention of going into high school art education. This year I got a great opportunity to participate in an organization called "Art and Life" for two semesters. The program allows me to teach Art History to middle school students once a week after school. Besides teaching one of my favorite subjects, I have especially enjoyed working with the kids, they definitely know more than we give them credit for. I strongly believe, exposing them to themes found in art helps them better understand different perspectives and cultures. Therefore, granting an appreciation and respect towards one another. I am also a Bridge Builder with the Refugee Community Partnership. With this community partnership, I help a Burmese refugee family with tutoring and advising. I think this has open my eyes to the refugee population that resides in Chapel Hill and I would definitely like to look into including more events with them in the future.

Ethics Statement

ETHICS GUIDELINES FOR TOWN ADVISORY BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

Members of advisory boards and commissions shall not discuss, advocate, or vote on any matter in which they have a conflict of interest or an interest which reasonably might appear to be in conflict with the concept of fairness in dealing with public business. A conflict of interest or a potential conflict occurs if a member has a separate, private, or monetary interest, either direct or indirect, in any issue or transaction under consideration. In addition, members of the Historic District Commission and Board of Adjustment, when these boards are hearing cases, serve as quasi-judicial bodies. Pursuant to State Statute 106A-388(e)(2), members of these boards “shall not participate in or vote on any quasi-judicial matter in a manner that would violate affected persons’ constitutional rights to an impartial decision maker. Impermissible violations of due process include, but are not limited to, a member having a fixed opinion prior to hearing the matter that is not susceptible to change, undisclosed ex parte communications, a close familial, business, or other associational relationship with an affected person, or a financial interest in the outcome of the matter.” Any member who violates these Ethics Guidelines may be subject to removal from the board or commission. If the advisory board or commission member believes he/she has a conflict of interest then that member should ask the advisory board or commission to be recused from voting. The advisory board or commission should then vote on the question on whether or not to excuse the member making the request. In cases where the individual member or the advisory board or commission establishes a conflict of interest, then the advisory board or commission member shall remove themselves from the voting area. Any advisory board or commission member may seek the counsel of the Town Attorney on questions regarding the interpretation of these ethics guidelines or other conflict of interest matters. The interpretation may include a recommendation on whether or not the advisory board or commission member should excuse himself/herself from voting. The advisory board or commission member may request the Town Attorney respond in writing.

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

The institutional knowledge and perspective from my previous experience serving on this commission would be extremely valuable. I also bring perspective as a local performing musician and comedian, occasional show producer and open mic host- that often involves informal leadership and mentoring of new performers. I am also studying local government and non-profits at UNC

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

Working on an MPA. Building a network of artists and arts professionals. Meeting facilitation, professional communication, budgeting.

Ethics Statement

ETHICS GUIDELINES FOR TOWN ADVISORY BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

Members of advisory boards and commissions shall not discuss, advocate, or vote on any matter in which they have a conflict of interest or an interest which reasonably might appear to be in conflict with the concept of fairness in dealing with public business. A conflict of interest or a potential conflict occurs if a member has a separate, private, or monetary interest, either direct or indirect, in any issue or transaction under consideration. In addition, members of the Historic District Commission and Board of Adjustment, when these boards are hearing cases, serve as quasi-judicial bodies. Pursuant to State Statute 106A-388(e)(2), members of these boards “shall not participate in or vote on any quasi-judicial matter in a manner that would violate affected persons’ constitutional rights to an impartial decision maker. Impermissible violations of due process include, but are not limited to, a member having a fixed opinion prior to hearing the matter that is not susceptible to change, undisclosed ex parte communications, a close familial, business, or other associational relationship with an affected person, or a financial interest in the outcome of the matter.” Any member who violates these Ethics Guidelines may be subject to removal from the board or commission. If the advisory board or commission member believes he/she has a conflict of interest then that member should ask the advisory board or commission to be recused from voting. The advisory board or commission should then vote on the question on whether or not to excuse the member making the request. In cases where the individual member or the advisory board or commission establishes a conflict of interest, then the advisory board or commission member shall remove themselves from the voting area. Any advisory board or commission member may seek the counsel of the Town Attorney on questions regarding the interpretation of these ethics guidelines or other conflict of interest matters. The interpretation may include a recommendation on whether or not the advisory board or commission member should excuse himself/herself from voting. The advisory board or commission member may request the Town Attorney respond in writing.

Interests & Experiences

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

As an English and Art History double major, I am extremely passionate about art and the collective creative process. As a current first-year from Charlotte, NC, I would bring a fresh student perspective on the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill as well as on the greater Chapel Hill community. In addition, as a first-year, I would have several years to develop a lasting connection with the board and to further involve myself in the community, creating change and seeing it through. As a student at UNC, I am involved in many facets of the arts. In addition to taking visual arts classes throughout high school and now in college, I am also involved in several arts-oriented organizations on campus. For instance, I serve on the Art Board of the Cellar Door, a bi-annual publication that collects and publishes student art and literature, and I participate in UNC Arts Everywhere. Furthermore, I have experience working with young people in the local community through Art & Life, an afterschool education program taught by UNC students through the Campus Y that empowers local middle schoolers through art. This semester, I have enjoyed teaching art history and visual art to a class of sixth graders at Smith Middle School once a week. The experience challenges me every day, but it has also been incredibly rewarding; I appreciate the diversity of the experience, learning from building my own lesson plans and interacting with students. I love the opportunity to engage in the arts beyond the UNC campus in the local Chapel Hill community, and I am interested in pursuing this further. Art has played and an extremely valuable role in my life; I believe in the genuine importance and power of creativity, and I am eager to work with others to expand art's influence through the Cultural Arts Commission.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

I am very passionate about visual art, and I have much experience in drawing, painting, photography, and graphic design through Adobe Photoshop. In addition, as President of my high school's chapter of the National Art Honor Society, I initiated art-supply drives and fundraisers to provide children in local hospitals with art supplies. I also led the painting of two large-scale community murals, one in the local refugee center of Charlotte, NC to welcome incoming refugees and the other a map of the world in a courtyard on my school's campus to educate Lower School students. Thus, I have experience creating fun and engaging opportunities for students and community members to engage in public art. Furthermore, I have taught and mentored a variety of students through Big Brothers Big Sisters in high school and Art & Life in college in subjects such as reading, writing, art history, and studio art. Through my experience engaging directly with young people, I have honed my problem-solving skills and learned to think on my feet; I am interested in pursuing and encouraging this kind of direct community engagement further through the Cultural Arts Commission. I enjoy working with and teaching students about art, and through my experiences in high school and college, I feel confident in my abilities to work with others in organizing art initiatives. In addition to my art-related experience, I have also developed near-fluent Spanish speaking, reading, and writing skills; my goal in college is to become fluent in the language. Ultimately, I am passionate about the committee's mission, and I would be excited to participate in any way that I can through a medium that I believe in, art.
