

Open (2)

Answered

Dismissed

John Rees 08:32 PM

Not a question, but rather a friendly comment. Please engage cyclists and bike advocates for locating bike racks. Spacing them around and hoping the cyclist find them, will guarantee they will not get used. A good example is the very nice bike rack in the Carrboro Hampton Inn deck... on the second level. Nobody riding a bike would ride up there to park their bike , because they don't know they are there and many are not comfortable riding in the tight confines of a parking deck. Thank you. John Rees with the bicycle alliance of chapel hill

Answer live

Type answer

John Rees 08:37 PM

Comment on the wall on the deck. Look at the wrapped parking deck in Staunton, Va. very good example of faux windows and the deck mixes well into the street scape and surround buildings. Would be glad to submit a photo if interested.
John Rees

Answer live

Type answer