Ethics Statement

ETHICS GUIDELINES FOR TOWN ADVISORY BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

Members of advisory boards and commissions shall not vote on any matter in which they have a conflict of interest or an interest which reasonably might appear to be in conflict with the concept of fairness in dealing with public business. A conflict of interest or a potential conflict occurs if the outcome of the matter being considered is reasonably likely to have a direct, substantial, and readily identifiable financial impact on the member. In addition, members of the Historic District Commission and Board of Adjustment, when these boards are hearing cases, serve as quasi-judicial bodies. Pursuant to General Statute 160D-109(d), members of these boards “shall not participate in or vote on any quasi-judicial matter in a manner that would violate affected persons’ constitutional rights to an impartial decision maker. Impermissible violations of due process include, but are not limited to, a member having a fixed opinion prior to hearing the matter that is not susceptible to change, undisclosed ex parte communications, a close familial, business, or other associational relationship with an affected person, or a financial interest in the outcome of the matter.” Any member who violates these Ethics Guidelines may be subject to removal from the board or commission. If the advisory board or commission member believes he/she has a conflict of interest then that member shall recuse himself/herself from voting on the matter. In cases where the individual member or the advisory board or commission establishes a conflict of interest, then the advisory board or commission member shall remove themselves from the voting area. Any advisory board or commission member may seek the counsel of the Town Attorney on questions regarding the interpretation of these ethics guidelines or other conflict of interest matters. The interpretation may include a recommendation on whether or not the advisory board or commission member should excuse himself/herself from voting. The advisory board or commission member may request the Town Attorney respond in writing.

Interests & Experiences

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

As a business owner in Chapel Hill, I've employed up to 75 full-time and part-time staff and have had a variety of experiences in personnel matters. Our employment attorney help us with an extensive employee handbook covering topics such as code of conduct, safety and security, PTO, harassment, workplace guidelines, benefits, non-discrimination, performance reviews, conflict resolution and disciplinary procedures, in which my management team and I revisit regularly for updates and to verify compliance.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

As a legal adjacent company, we are regularly operating in civil litigation matters where the greater weight of the evidence is the standard for conflict resolution. The premise of reviewing grievances based on whether the Human Resources department followed its own policies and procedures for employee management is similar to the requirement in jury trials to follow the law as it is described by The Court. This is something we describe to potential jurors weekly.
