E: Applicable Design Guidelines

The Town's Design Guidelines for the Chapel Hill Historic Districts are integral to the application and review process. These guidelines supplement the required review criteria for Certificate of Appropriateness applications (provided in Section 3.6.2\(e\)\(4\) of the Land Use Management Ordinance) by providing detailed, practical considerations for how to make changes to properties while preserving the special character of their Historic District context. Please review the Design Guidelines and consider their applicability to your proposed project. (Attach additional sheets, as necessary.)

Section/Page	Topic	Brief description of the applicable aspect of your proposal
p 49	Utilities and energy retrofit	Guidelines 8 and item 9 are met in that the location of the generator unit is in a corner beside the building which in size and adjacency to the building is functional and unobtrusive. The unit has a simple and clean appearance.

407 E Franklin St

Project Narrative & Justification of Appropriateness

The unit is screened on two sides by an existing fence. There is no possibility of it being seen from any public way. It is also located near an existing gas supply line which will allow little disturbance of the ground around it. When the installation is complete, the piping involved will be basically invisible. The generator should have no bearing on the historic fabric of the building.

We are asking for permission to install this unit to provide coverage for the hand scanning equipment which allows entry to the building in the event of an outage. Further it will maintain WiFi capability for the students who rely heavily on this access for their studies. Along with the heating and cooling of the building, a generator is an essential piece of equipment for modern times.

Brief History of the Delta Delta Delta House

The Delta Delta Delta House was built in 1856 by Samuel Phillips, who taught law to University and independent students. His law office was the little building on the corner of Franklin and Hillsborough Streets. The original house consisted of eight rooms, and was built in the Greek Revival style. The two-story, Queen Anne porch was added in the late 1800s. Although the original house has been modified extensively over the years, the first addition was a large dining room, which is now the informal sitting room called the Delta Shelter. Many professors and towns people provided board for students, and the large dining room was added for this purpose. The living room of the House Director's apartment was the original dining room. The kitchen was a separate building in the rear. There was, however, a winter kitchen in the basement. Later, a kitchen connected to the house was added. It was in the location of the present laundry room.

The Delta Delta Delta Sorority bought the property in 1978, and added the large dining room and kitchen addition at the rear, connected to the main house by a skylighted connector. The sorority complex consists of four adjacent houses, and includes almost all of the tract of land which was laid out by the Town as one of the original residential lots. The tract ran from the alley on the East of the property, to Hillsborough Street on the West, and from Franklin Street to Rosemary on the North-South axis.

The Middle House, known in the past as the Green House, was originally built as servants quarters, but was later enlarged by subsequent owners as a residence for relatives. It has been improved on the interior by the sorority over the years.

Cheltenham Place, which faces the alley, began as a carriage house and cow barn, but was later converted to two apartments. The sorority renovated this building in 1991 to include an inside stairway connecting the upper and lower levels, along with other interior improvements.

The Brecht House facing Rosemary Street was purchased in 1991 from the estate of Dr. Brecht. The parcel had been part of the original tract, but had been sold off early in the century. It, too, has been renovated, but is basically as it was at the time of purchase.

Once beautifully landscaped and the scene of many garden parties, the grounds had become largely overgrown at the time the sorority bought the property. Over the years, a great effort has been made to restore some of the old features and generally improve the landscape. Today, the grounds are laced with walkways, planting beds and open lawns, providing a useful and beautiful setting for the houses.

Mrs. Oldenburg,

Attached please find a drawing showing the proposed location for the generator. I have included the dimensions on the drawing but in case they cannot be read, generator is 47" wide, 25" front to back, and 30" tall. The generator will be positioned onto a concrete pad we provide.

I have also provided pictures of the generator in our shop, technicians just completed refurbish day before yesterday.

Let me know if they need anything else at this time.
